Napoleon Seeks His Rights.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Prince Napoleon has appealed to the Procureur General of France for redress against the Minister of the Interior, Prefect of Police and others, who took part in his expulsion. The appeal is made in accordance with the provisions of the penal code. Should it be rejected or disregarded, the Prince will commence personal proceedings in the courts against parties concerned, and will avail himself of all legal means to procure restoration of his rights as a citizen of France, and the punishment of those who have illegally driven him from his country.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Government has resolved to support in the approaching session of the Assembly, a motion for the appointment of a commissioner to investigate the Ollivier and Palekao Cabinets, preparatory to the impeachment of the Imperial Ministers on a charge of having provoked the war with Prussia. This motion was made by the left during the last session, but was voted down, the Government at the time taking no part.

Commercial News.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Syndicate Chamber of Commerce publishes the text of Secretary Boutwell's circular directing that all goods imported into the United States in French vessels, from foreign countries other than France, shall be charged with a discriminating duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem. The Government is apprehensive that the circular was issued in retaliation for the new French law, imposing differential dues on foreign bottoms, and will cause a loss to France in the carrying trade of numerous countries exporting goods via Havre.

The Burning of the Escurial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The London Times says of the fire at the Palace of Escurial, in Spain, not a book, or manuscript, or picture, was injured. The church and palace, with their pictures and other contents, were not hurt. Forty thousand dollars will repair the building, which the King will defray from his own purse.

ARIZONA.

"Gen. O. O. Howard is now at Camp Bowie, making peace with Cachise and has loaded him down with presents, and sending into the mountains provisions to his people. On the 30th of September, in the valley of the Sonita, about four miles below Camp Crittenden, some fifty miles south of this place, six cavalrymen armed and mounted and coming up the valley to the post were attacked by about one hundred Indians. Four of their number were killed on the spot—one a Mexican. Their horses and accoutrements were secured. The alarm at Camp Crittenden was so great that no one could be induced to bring the intelligence in here until the evening of the 5th, as the Indians did not seem at all alarmed, but remained in sight of the hills. This makes nineteen men killed in this little valley only about ten miles long, since Gen. Howard first came into the Territory in April or May last. The Apaches have now things about their own way. Part of the reservation Indians are getting all the arms and ammunition possible and are in communication with a party of hostile ones, conveying to them supplies of all kinds, to enable them to continue their depredations, some of them frequently going out to give them arms and ammunition. As an evidence, no one is shot now with an arrow, and Indians are as well fixed as any of us."

G. J. Forster, printer on the coast since 1849, died yesterday. Aged 53.

It is said that the banks, realizing the necessity of raising money to supply the wants of commercial customers, are offering stocks held by them, very freely.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.)

EASTERN DATES TO OCTOBER 21.

EASTERN STATES.

New Evidence Against the Tammany Thieves.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—It is understood that the new indictment against Tweed covers a new charge, a witness having been found who can swear positively to a division of money between Ingersoll and Tweed. It is stated that it was difficult for Tweed to obtain bail. The new indictment against Hall covers 78 counts.

The Herald says it had detailed Henderson to ascertain the exact condition of affairs in Cuba, and ascribes his prompt release to telegrams sent to Havana to Admiral Paro. Henderson is now in danger of assassination as a suspected person. He will push ahead with his impartial mission, for he is a picked man of nerve and irrepressibility.

The Indian Policy Question.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A Washington special says it is generally believed that a change in the Indian policy is impending. Although it is unknown what the President may recommend in his message, there are outcroppings that afford a clue to the system proposed to be introduced. The new policy, if rightly comprehended, proposes to deal with the Indian as a man endowed with the possession of all vices as well as virtues native to humanity. He will be dealt with on the same principle as men are in civilized communities, getting punished for his misdeeds and protected for his industry. The policy of cajoling and coaxing will be abandoned. Tribal relations will be broken up, so far as concerns the possession of land and property, each family having its own farm and shop being assisted in gaining a support from their own labor. The Indian will be safe upon the reservation, in both person and property, but off it must take his own chances. No white intruder will be tolerated on the reservation, though it would not be desirable to isolate the Indian from small settlements about the limits. The Indian will be given good instruction. The military will be on every reservation, but in subordination to the civil powers.

Murder in Florida.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A Gainesville, letter says that on the 18th Stark Perry, son of ex Gov. Perry, fatally stabbed John O'Malley, a prominent citizen, in a quarrel, the result of a long standing feud.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President's Team Runs Away.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The President met with an accident yesterday which at one time promised to be attended with serious results. He was driving a pair of colts. One shied violently and broke the pole. Both then became unmanageable, so that the President was obliged to jump from the carriage and hold them. Meanwhile they kicked the buggy into a wreck.

The President and Mrs. Grant go to New York to-day to welcome Nellie, who is expected in the Scotia to morrow.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Excitement in France.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The Dispatch says public feeling has been raised to a high pitch of excitement over the coming investigation concerning the late war with Germany. It is believed it will be developed that it was the result of the rash, headstrong policy of the Cabinet then in power.

A Charge Against Bismarck.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—A letter says among the blows at religious liberty by the Bismarckian Government is the order forbidding processions in several towns in the Rhenish Provinces, where since time immemorial they ranked foremost among the customs of the people. The suppression is sure to excite great indignation.

Such was the excitement caused in Prussia by the expulsion of the Jesuits that the Catholic Archbishop of Catelone had instituted against him the hatred and contempt of the Government for daring to write a letter on the subject in Holland. Some nobles offered shelter to the exiled German Jesuits, but the Hague Government prohibited it.

ARIZONA.

Indian Matters.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—The Tucson Citizen of the 15th, has the following: "Gen. Howard arrived yesterday, after a ten days camp with Cachise, in the Dragoon mountains. The General thinks Cachise will keep peace, and says the reports regarding the peace negotiations of Superintendent Pope and Agent Piper, about one year ago, at Canada Alamoza, and last April at Tulroza, with General Granger and Superintendent Pope, were not correctly reported, but leaves the impression that Cachise has not been dealt with according to agreement, and therefore does not regard it proper to judge of present peace negotiations. He hopes Cachise will keep peace, but does not think he will, beyond next summer.

House.

MORNING SESSION.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, and was opened with prayer by Rev. R. Powers, of Salem

Roll was called and the House proceeded to business.

Motion pending adjournment Saturday was Mr. Simpson's motion to reconsider the vote by which H. B. No. 77 failed to pass

The Chair here ruled that although a question to reconsider was always in order, and that in questions of reconsideration it was not necessary to have in possession papers or documents, but when a final vote is taken on the passage of a bill, unless the paper or document was in the possession of the body legislating thereon, all legislation was inoperative and void. He would, therefore, be obliged if a motion would be made to expunge from the journal all matter which had been placed thereon after the motion to reconsider had been carried. (This referred to the Canal and Locks Bill, which was in possession of the Senate during its reconsideration and final disposition.—REP.)

Mr. Simpson moved to expunge the necessary matter from the journal.

Mr. Biles moved to lay on the table, on which the ayes and noes were called, resulting in a defeat of Mr. Biles' motion by a vote of 24 to 23.

The question was now to expunge from the journal the record of Saturday's proceedings which had been entered subsequent to Mr. Stott's motion to reconsider. The effect of this motion, should it prevail, would be to leave the House confronting the question, "Shall this bill (H. B. No. 77) pass?"

A call of the House was ordered to bring in Mr. Crawford.

Mr. Burbank favored the ruling of the Chair, and held that the records must be expunged.

Mr. Crawford agreed with Mr. Burbank, yet on the final passage of the bill he should vote against it.

Messrs. Caples and Patton could not quite agree with the decision of the Chairman in his ruling. Still they would withdraw their objections to expunge from the records.

The vote was then taken, resulting, ayes 31, noes 17, and the Clerk was ordered to expunge the portion of the Journal indicated.

Mr. Patton offered a resolution requesting that H. B. No. 77 be returned to the House from the Senate in order to have properly engrossed sundry amendments which had passed the House, but which had been omitted from the bill when the bill had been transmitted to the Senate.

A committee of three was provided for in the resolution.

Mr. Simpson moved to amend by ordering that the House should make the request through the Clerk, instead of a select committee.

Messrs. Patton and others opposed this on account of the delay which would probably ensue if the request was sent through the ordinary channels.

Mr. Mallory thought it would be more proper to send the request by the ordinary method, and if that means failed, then the House would be justified in employing the more forcible method of sending a committee.

Mr. Caples objected to this because reading of the House message in the Senate was a special order of business, and this alone would cause such delay as to defeat the intention of the House.

Mr. Simpson's amendment was adopted by a vote of 26 to 21.

Mr. Hirsch moved the reconsideration of the vote by which S. B. 43, the Immigration Bill, was lost; a call of the House being at the same time ordered.

The motion prevailed by a vote of 26 to 22.

So the question was, Shall the bill pass.

Mr. Engle rose to a question of privilege and explanation, stating that Gen. E. L. Applegate had met him on the street and had used such language in speaking of the action of the House in failing to pass the bill that he considered it an insult, both to himself and the House. He (Engle) stated that the bill was gotten up in order to benefit a few lobbyists who were seeking appointments under the provisions of the bill, and therefore he would oppose it.

Mr. Langell opposed it because such measures had misrepresented the State and would be just as hurtful in the future

Mr. Burbank favored it because it would be an economical measure in the end. The appropriation would come back to us with ten fold interest.

A vote was taken and the bill passed by a vote of 27 to 21. The appropriation provided for was $24,000, with a contingent $5,000 allowed.

Mr. Allen desired that the Committee on Engrossment might be permitted to draw up a bill which should be considered already engrossed, in place of H. B. No. 71, which had been lost. The permission was granted.

Mr. Clow offered a resolution to compel the Committee on Ways and Means to report back the bill providing for erecting an Insane asylum. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Burbank offered a joint resolution authorizing the Governor to lease out such convict labor as was not necessary on the prison works, at a rate not less than forty cents per diem.

Action on the resolution was postponed until 3 o'clock, and on motion, the House adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

House met at the usual hour.

Mr. Patton requested that his resolution to appoint a select committee who should procure H. B. No. 77 from the Senate might be entered on the journal.

Mr. Langell offered J. R that both Houses adjourn at 12 M. on Tuesday.

Mr. Simpson moved to postpone action on the resolution till 10 A. M. to-morrow, which was lost—21 to 27.

Mr. Burbank moved to amend by substituting Wednesday at midnight, which was lost—16 to 32.

The original resolution carried—28 to 20.

Mr. Harrison moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill appropriating one-fourth of the moneys arising from the sale of swamp lands be added to the school fund, which was carried—31 to 13. It was amended by substituting one-tenth instead of one-fourth, and the bill passed—44 to 2—Stephenson and Grant voting no.

Mr. Barin offered a resolution directing the Clerk to furnish the Secretary of State a statement of the claims relative to the Clackamas county contest. Action was postponed to allow other claims to be presented.

By instruction of the House the Committee on Ways and Means reported back the bill for the construction of an insane asylum, appropriating $30,000 therefor, without recommendation. The bill was put on its third reading after much wrangling.

Mr. Caples was of opinion that on account of the small number of patients that the appropriation might be dispensed with. Considering the greater cost of labor and food in this State over the Atlantic States the cost of keeping the insane was no greater here than in other States. He thought inasmuch as the per centage of cases cured was greater than in any other State the insane were well enough provided for.

Mr. Burbank moved, in order to test the opinion of the House, to lay the same on the table, which was carried—27 to 21.

House concurred in the Senate amendments to the bill providing for the construction of the Jackson and Baker county wagon road.

S. J. R., requesting a statement to be made by the Committee on Ways and Means, of the per diem pay of clerks. Concurred in by the House.

S. B., increasing the appropriation to $10,000 per year for the employment of extra clerical force was introduced and read three times.

Mr. Patton, although differing with the Secretary of State in politics, favored the bill. That officer was so driven with work as to be unable to leave the city even for a few days at a time.

A vote was polled, and the bill passed by a vote of 39 to 6.

A bill was introduced, amending the act organizing Josephine county, and defining the boundaries of the same. Read thrice and passed by a vote of 39 to 4.

Mr. Mason said that this thing was new to him, and he knew the people of Jackson would be unwilling to give up this portion of Jackson county, and moved the reconsideration of the vote.

Mr. Waldon replied that the people living in that portion of Jackson county to be cut off, had petitioned to be annexed to Josephine county. He thought their interests should be considered first.

The motion for a reconsideration prevailed, and the bill was referred to the delegation from Jackson and Josephine counties.

Mr. Burbank's J. R., authorizing the Governor to lease the convict labor, was brought up for consideration.

Mr. Caples thought it was putting convict labor in competition with our own mechanics. If this was the case he would oppose it.

Mr. Congle favored it. This measure had been adopted in nearly every State Prison in the United States.

Mr. Burbank said it might compete with mechanics' labor, but as mechanics had a much larger field to work in, he thought there would be no real injury felt.

Mr. Mallory thought the risk in carrying such a measure would be greater than the compensation arising therefrom would justify. The resolution was laid on the table.

A bill providing for the sale of tide lands on the sea shore, introduced by Mr. Downing, was read third time. School Land Commissioners were made agents also for this description of Lands.

Mr. Hirsch said the bill was at variance with a bill which passed the other day, and moved to refer to Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Caples was not opposed to the bill, yet was not prepared to vote on a bill which he knew nothing about. He wished it might be referred, in order to do the bill justice. The motion prevailed.

S. B. No. 65, to appoint Mrs. Mary Pocahontas Sawtelle as a Board of Immigration Commissioners, with a salary of $400 ante to $600 in the shade, to be paid when she had secured fifty immigrants of good moral character, who should settle in this State, was taken up. A call of the House was ordered. The Sergeant-at-Arms brought in several members under arrest. Ten minutes were then given Mrs. Sawtelle in which to advocate the merits of her bill; after which, to the question "shall the bill pass," 20 responded aye and 18 no, so the bill passed.

The Senate amendments to the bill incorporating churches and other societies were concurred in by the House.

S. B. No. 42, for the relief of Lane county, remitting $3,000 interest due on taxes collected—in litigation—was placed on third reading. This litigation was caused by the payment of taxes in legal tenders which were offered at par, and which the State refused to receive. The State had charged interest on this amount, while the amount of tax money being in litigation, no interest accrued thereon. The bill passed 20 to 17.

The bill appropriating $4,000 for payment of the expenses of Commissioners to attend the Centennial Commission of the United States, read under suspension of the rules and passed, 32 to 7.

The bill regulating the fees of officers in certain counties, read third time and passed.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported on the matter of the compensation of officers of the Legislature, recommending the salaries as follows: Chief Clerks, $8; Assistant Clerks, $6; Sergeants-at-Arms, $5; Doorkeeper, $4; Committee Clerks, $4 each per day.

Mr. Caples moved to amend by fixing the pay of the Door-keepers and Sergeants-at-Arms at $6 per day.

Mr. Corwin further amended to $5 per day, which prevailed.

The pay of Prof. DeFrance, Clerk of the Public Building Committee, was fixed at $8 per day.

The House adjourned without action on the report of the committee.

EVENING SESSION.

House met according to adjournment.

The report of the Committee of Ways and Means, which was pending at adjournment, was again read.

Mr. Simpson thought that the Engrossing Clerks should have at least $6 per day, and insisted that other Clerks should only be paid according to the number of days employed.

Mr. Patton thought it unfair to pay the Doorkeepers $5 per day, while the Clerks, who were sometimes at work all night, were only allowed a miserable pittance.

Mr. Gingles moved to refer back to the committee. At the suggestion of Mr. Burbank, the committee were instructed to fix Engrossing and Enrolling Clerks' pay at $6 per day.

Mr. Biles moved to take up S. B. No. 60, on appropriations.

Mr. Simpson objected. He wanted the regular order of business.

Mr. Caples thought it the imperative duty of the Legislature to attend to business which hung like an incubus over the House.

Mr. Martin was not prepared to consider the bill as yet.

Mr. Burbank thought the sooner the House attended to the matter the better.

Mr. Mallory thought there was not time to give the bill justice in so short a time, as there was other business of importance. He believed the wiser course to be to let the bill rest until to-morrow, and the House would be through with business now pending.

Mr. Caples said that the Legislature could not adjourn without leaving some business undone, and that Mr. Mallory's argument regarding the importance of the bill, was all the greater reason why it should have immediate attention.

Mr. Langell was of the same opinion as Mr. Caples, and urged its immediate attention.

Mr. Biles' motion prevailed by a vote of 40 to 8.

Mr. Biles moved to read first and second times by title which, after strong objections, prevailed. Vote 44 to 3.

Mr. Biles immediately followed with a motion to read third time, which provoked a long debate on the part of Mallory and others.

Mr. Mallory denounced it as an unheard-of proceeding, and compared it to riding a horse on a canter.

Mr. Caples rose to speak, but was ruled out of order by the chair, Mr. Simpson, and a clash occurred, in which language more satirical than complimentary was used.

Mr. Burbank favored going into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Simpson left the chair and moved a postponement until to-morrow. He denounced such hasty legislation, and had noticed that the gentleman from Multnomah was always ready when bills for appropriation came up. That gentleman always mentioned the great importance of such bills, and now that gentleman was urging the most important bill of all to be run through without any consideration whatever.

Mr. Caples knew the gentleman who was, a few days ago, trying to pass a bill taking $80,000 of the people's money, and was surprised that he should be such a stickler about appropriations. He should insist on the immediate reading of the bill.

Mr. Patton moved the previous question, which was not seconded.

The ayes and noes were called on Mr. Simpson's motion—5 to 42.

Mr. Powers moved to refer to Committee of the Whole—lost—11 to 37.

Mr. Biles moved the previous question, which was seconded.

The main question was then before the House on the suspension of the rules to read third time, which was carried—45 to 32.

Mr. Simpson again moved to refer to the Judiciary Committee, at the same time launching several parthian shafts at Mr. Caples, who opposed the reference of the bill.

Mr. Patton refused his acquiescence to any motion that the gentleman from Benton would make. Accused him directly of fillibustering.

Mr. Powers had found that instead of being less than $200,000 it was over $500,000; and judged that the gentleman from Multnomah had not given it such extremely careful consideration after all. He would favor referring to Judiciary Committee.

A skirmish occurred as to a point of order. The Chair ruled Mr. Simpson's motion out of order, leaving no question before the House. The bill was read a third time

Mr. Biles moved the previous question on the passage of the bill, but a majority did not second.

Mr. Simpson called attention to an item appropriating $3,200 for a certain purpose, where the bill had previously both houses appropriating $4,000 therefor. There were also other mistakes.

Collier could not support it. There were several items needing explanation.

Mr. Patton gave as his reason for being so peremptory that Secretary Chadwick had explained each item to the Senate.

Mr. Caples moved that the Sergeant-at-Arms be requested to bring the Secretary of State into the room.

Mr. Simpson held that the expression of Mr. Caples was disrespectful to that officer.

Mr. Caples—I mean to invite him in; fetch him in; bring him in any way.

Mr. Mallory called attention to an item of $1,500 paid as prosecution fees in the case of the State vs. Sam. E. May. He characterized it as an outrage to pay this sum where it had already been paid before in salaries of those officers. He bitterly denounced the attempt to pass an appropriation of nearly $600,000 without its ever being submitted to even the most casual consideration from the House.

Mr. Langell thought the bill had been subjected to sufficient scrutiny in the Senate.

Mr. Simpson denounced his opponents as endeavoring to force the bill through.

Secretary Chadwick being called in, on examination found that several important omissions had been made by the Engrossing Clerk.

Mr. Speaker—The question is, Shall the bill pass?

[Derisive laughter.]

The bill was read, and Mr. Simpson demanded it should be referred either to committee or else sent back to the Senate for reconsideration.

To a question of inquiry, the Secretary of State said there were several errors, one of which was the omission of $38,060.

Mr. Downing moved to refer to the Judiciary Committee, with instructions to report to-morrow.

Mr. Patton amended by directing the Committee to report immediately.

Mr. Simpson demanded division.

The Chair was in doubt about referring the bill to third reading without instructions.

Mr. Burbank moved to amend, by directing the Committee to report at liberty, which prevailed.

Mr. Cooper moved to adjourn.

The ayes and noes were called—11 to 36; lost.

The Committee on Judiciary reported back the bill with necessary amendments.

Mr. Biles moved the adoption of the amendments.

Mr. Patton moved the previous question, which was duly seconded and the main question ordered.

Mr. Biles moved the bill be read a third time now. Carried.

Mr. Simpson objected to the payment of $1,500 to the prosecutors of Sam'l E. May.

Secretary Chadwick, in explanation, stated that that sum was paid to Strahan and others for prosecution of May.

Mr. Clow to Mr. Simpson—Do you object to the payment of this sum after it has been legally contracted?

Mr. Simpson—I claim that that debt has not been legally contracted.

Mr. Engle was as much opposed to the payment of this amount as any one else. If we did not pay it now, the next Legislature would pay for it in the shape of a relief bill. The whole thing hangs now in this item of appropriation, and if it is not allowed the Legislature will adjourn without passing the bill,

Mr. Patton did not relish the idea of paying claims which had previously been disallowed, but demanded the passage of the bill before the adjournment sine die.

Mr. Caples—I understand that when the bill passed the Senate this item was omitted in the bill. There has been some skull duggery somewhere.

Several other items were explained to the satisfaction of none, and the vote stood—ayes, 37; noes—Messrs. Downing, Mason, Martin, Powers, Stephenson, Simpson, Waldon, Washburn, Mr. Speaker—9.

House adjourned.

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 22 1872

To Work

The Republicans of the State of Oregon should remember that the Presidential election is only two weeks in the future. Some time ago the State Central Committee met and passed a resolution to inaugurate the campaign immediately and prosecute it vigorously. To all appearances that resolution was expected to enforce itself so far as concerns every body except the Chairman of the Central Committee and one of the candidates for Presidential Elector. Hon C W Parrish, Chairman of the Committee, is engaged industriously in the collection and distribution of campaign documents, and the performance of such other labor in the premises as his position and the state of the contest requires, and Hon W D Hare, candidate for Elector, has buckled on the armor and gone into the fight energetically. But we hear of no other effort, except such as may be made by individuals without reference to the organization of the campaign.

We have hoped to be able to announce that Hon J F Gazley, the giant of Southern Oregon, and Hon A B Meacham had also taken the stump, and we trust that an announcement will be made soon.

Meanwhile the County Committees of the several counties should see to it that their respective county organizations are perfected and the ordinary means of securing a thorough canvass adopted. We are entitled to a majority of two thousand in the State, and will have it if the party but work as it should. Let us take advantage of the apathy and discouragement of the Greeleyized Democracy and run up the majority for Grant and Wilson to its utmost possibilities. This can only be accomplished by a thorough organization and a vigorous contest.

Growth of the United States

The volumes which contain the last census reports are so numerous and bulky that their general distribution is almost a matter of impossibility. A study of their details shows other facts in regard to the growth of the country quite as satisfactory to American pride as the increase of population. While it is true, as an exchange remarks, that "our growth in population is extremely gratifying, it is not quite up to the enthusiastic anticipations expressed before the truth was known. Many believed that instead of thirty one and a half millions as the round number at which the census of 1860 allowed us to put our population, the census of 1870 would give us at least forty millions, instead of which we are not allowed to state the round figures above thirty eight and a half millions, or an increase of not quite twenty five per cent. But not so our products. Many of them have advanced far beyond any relative proportion which we should have expected to this increase of population. Among others, this is true of our agricultural products. Going back, not ten, but twenty years, for our standard of comparison, it is seen still more plainly. Knowing that our increase of population within the twenty years has been about sixty per cent, we believe no one would have ventured to put the present production of some of our largest staples, on whose relative abundance we have always prided ourselves, at two, three, or five fold that of 1850. And yet, unwarranted as this would have seemed as an estimate, it is established as a fact by the figures of the census. The Bureau of Statistics, in giving some of the summaries of returns, tells us that in twenty years the wheat crop of the country has trebled. Barley has increased six fold. Hops have increased seven-fold [not so encouraging.] Oats have doubled. Live stock have trebled in estimated value, if not in numbers. Now they are reckoned at the somewhat startling sum of fifteen hundred and twenty five million dollars—or nearly two hundred dollars for every family in the nation. Slaughtered animals have nearly quadrupled in value and are now estimated at four hundred million dollars annually. Wool has increased from sixty to a hundred million pounds. Cotton is half a million bales above the crop of 1850, though it has not yet returned to the great crop of 1860—the palmy days when Cotton was called King. Irish potatoes have only increased a third, while sweet potatoes have decreased one half. Corn has increased largely within the period, though it seems the crop of 1868 was larger than that of 1870 by seventy eight million bushels or ten per cent of the whole. One drawback to the cultivation of corn is the fact that the cost of its transportation from the region of its most luxuriant growth to the sea board, too often takes away all the profit of production. The farmer sometimes almost feels that the more he has of it the poorer he is. Not so, however, with wool and wheat, and beef, and some of the products to which the attention of farmers is turned and by which the country is growing rich.

Examination would probably show some similar rates of increase in other lines of production. Most of the leading manufactures have been advancing as fast, probably, or faster than our agricultural interests, and mining has grown up from comparative insignificance to a place in the very front rank in our industrial pursuits. Doubtless the increase in the money value of this production has vastly outstripped that of every other. The resources of the country are beginning to be developed. And, with our better understanding of what these really are—our better methods which science is teaching, better machines which invention is giving, improved facilities in every respect which every day is multiplying the increase of production for the next ten or twenty years will be still greater. Another census, if all signs do not fail, will show a much higher ratio of increase in our population. But the disparity between this and the increase of production will be even greater than the surprising one which we now record.

The official Republican majorities in Ohio vary from 16,189 to 16,455 on a vote of 520,037. This is the highest vote ever polled in the State, the next highest being the vote for President in 1868, when there were 518,828 votes thrown, of which Grant received a majority of 41,428. At the election for Secretary of State which immediately preceded the Presidential election of 1868, the Republican candidate was elected by 17,383 on a vote of 516,747. That, being the last election corresponding to that just held, is the most reliable basis of computation upon which to establish the result in that State at the Presidential election now at hand. The majority of Wikoff, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, at the election on the 8th inst, was 14,065. The majority for Grant, assuming the increase of the Presidential over the State election to be the same relatively as it was in 1868, will be not far from 30,000. And we predict that the majority will be above that figure, instead of below it.

The Omens

The Boston Advertiser of the 10th has an able article on the prospects of the Presidential election as shown by the light of the "October States," from which we take the following:

Upon the adjournment of the Cincinnati Convention the work immediately before the few Republicans who accepted its results was to secure an indorsement of it by the Democratic party. To this end Mr Greeley [illegible] morning and night toil with an energy so great that [illegible] which was in fact but the application of a brave imagination for the purpose of [illegible] the delivery of a public sentiment that did not exist. Then it was that the Tribune was overfull of reports of the tidal wave on the coast with the prairie fires in the West already [illegible] was in the wave and in the fire. It was made to appear to the Democracy, then somewhat eager to be deceived, that the Republican party was not ready to divide but already divided and even far gone in the process of dissolution, and so it was [illegible] Mr Greeley with an enthusiasm which surprised Republicans into a serious consideration of what this unnatural and [illegible] since to all an really significant. From that day the Cincinnati wing of the faction has been a diminishing power, and the accession of Sumner and Banks and Haussaurek was not able to invigorate its weakness. They went over after the spirit and composition of the new phenomenon in politics were clearly apprehended by the people, and they went alone.

The elections in North Carolina and West Virginia, the former State in spite of the most desperate efforts being put forth by the Democracy, the latter notwithstanding local complications, showing clearly that the Democracy had gained nothing, were both significant of the weakness of the new party dodge represented by Horace Greeley. The organs however hid away their chagrin behind obstreperous charges of fraud and called upon the country to wait for Maine. The management of the interests of the coalition in that State were left almost wholly to the Republican wing of it. The purpose was to induce Republicans to leave the party, and the Democrats having no faith in their powers of persuasion in the premises made little noise but prepared to put forth all their strength at the polls. The bulletins announcing Republican demoralization and prophesying our disaster came thick and fast, but the election demonstrated that these also were manufactured out of the contest material. The Republicans bettered their record. Meantime Vermont, which in former times has taken Tribunes enough to carpet the State all over, had held an election and held to its old fashioned Republican integrity. The "tidal wave" in the East proved to be even less formidable than an ordinary high tide.

But, as the faith in tides diminished, the faith in prairie fires grew. Mr Greeley shook the dust of New England from off his feet and went West. The seed he had sown in the East seemed doomed to have fallen on stony ground, but in the fertile West we were assured it had taken a strong root and promised an abundant harvest. The superior open mindedness of Western civilization was talked to the Westerners until perhaps the flatterers believed the flattered believed it. If Mr Greeley and his notions were not popular in the West they were popular nowhere. Everything was staked on the result of the elections held Tuesday in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and everything was lost. In Pennsylvania, where every circumstance favored a weakening of Republican strength, the majority is larger than at any corresponding election since 1860. In Ohio the majority is as large as in the State election preceding Grant's first candidacy, and Indiana, according to advices thus far received, has actually been wrested from the possession of the Democracy. Iowa and Nebraska are as ever staunchly Republican, and Delaware, in an election last week, showed such Republican gains that the prospect is fair that her electoral vote will for the first time be counted for a Republican President.

It is as vain as it is absurd for the Liberal organs to attempt to escape the ignominy of their false reports of strength by shouting that they have been cheated in the voting. Most of the fraud developed by the campaign was antecedent to the voting, and it was one fraud that the voting has exposed. The "Liberals" have never had reason for the confidence of victory they assumed to possess. The majorities reported are too large to permit a suspicion that they were wrongly obtained. Indeed, all frauds aside, they would be even larger than they are. Since when, pray, in the judgment of Horace Greeley, has the Republican party enjoyed a monopoly of the cheating done at elections? In the expressive phrase of the street, this is "too thin." As everybody who has observed the course of elections knows, these majorities will inevitably be larger in November. The fight on the election is settled. In New Haven, last summer, Gratz Brown was of opinion that Grant might not carry more than three States. In the light of what is accomplished and certain, will he tell us how many more than three he and his associates are likely to carry in November?

Death of Wm H Seward

An Auburn (N Y) dispatch of the 11th inst gives the following particulars of the death of this distinguished statesman:

AUBURN, N Y, Oct 11—Hon Wm H Seward died at his residence in this city at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was taken ill on Wednesday of last week with ague and fever and latterly a catarrhal affection set in. The immediate cause of his death was the latter. His family were all with him at the time of his death with the exception of his two sons. Yesterday morning Mr Seward rode out, and in the afternoon dictated several items about his new book relative to his recent travels, which he has been engaged in writing for some time past, and, in fact, he was considered in no danger till about 11 o'clock last night. He retained his senses to the last and died in the full possession of those sterling faculties which for years marked his life. He died peacefully at the age of 71.

Mr Seward having taken cold, and been somewhat unwell for a day or two, was on the evening of Saturday the 5th, seized with a severe chill and his physician was summoned to him. He had been during the summer in his ordinary good health, suffering only from the inconvenience of muscular palsy of his arms, and had been engaged in preparing for the press his account of his recent journey around the world. The chill was that of an ordinary tertian ague, accompanied by a harassing catarrhal cough. It was followed by fever and delirium, which lasted until late in the night. On Sunday he was up in the afternoon, took his dinner, and passed a comfortable night. On Monday, with the exception of his cough and the catarrh, he was comfortable, and dictated as usual to his assistant in completing his book. He played whist on Monday evening, but at 10 P M a slight chill occurred, followed by delirium and fever, with an aggravated catarrhal disturbance of the chest, which lasted nearly all night, his physician seeing him on this account after midnight. On Tuesday morning, after some sleep, he was again better, and drove out in the afternoon, but the fever, delirium and restlessness returned with the cough on Tuesday night. On Wednesday he drove out for two hours and dictated to his amanuensis as usual, though harassed all day with cough and catarrhal effusion in the chest. On Wednesday evening his cough seemed abated for a while and then the cough returned at bed time. He was nearly sleepless until five o'clock in the morning. At 4 A M, to relieve the tedium of lying sleepless, he had his son William read the New York Times to him. Wednesday morning he slept after 5 A M pretty well till 11 A M of to-day, though his fever kept up without any real remission. At half past one he was seized with great difficulty of breathing, caused by a sudden catarrhal effusion into the lungs, commencing with the right lung and soon involving the left also, which occasioned his death in about two hours. He entertained no apprehension but that he should recover from the attack of the catarrh ague till last night, and this morning, at his age, and with the condition of the muscular palsy from which he has suffered so long, the fact that the fever was increasing upon him together with the catarrhal disturbances led his physician to apprehend a fatal result in the course of a week or two. Yet no immediate fear was felt and his dissolution was sudden and unexpected.

Seward's intellectual faculties were clear and vigorous to the last save when disturbed by paroxysms of fever. Just after the effusion from the lungs to-day, and thinking it would relieve his breathing, he was at his own desire placed upon a lounge and bolstered up and removed from his adjoining bed room into his study, where, in the midst of his books and his literary and other papers, and surrounded by his relatives and a few friends and all his devoted dependents, he breathed his last. For the last hour of his life, as the powers of nature were giving way, his condition became easy and he spent the time in affectionate leave taking of his relatives and dependents and finally sank quietly to his last rest as if going to sleep.

Violations of the Law of Copyright

We are always glad to see substantial justice enforced against those who cunningly attempt by evasion to get around the law of copyright, as well as against its more bold and open violators. When a publication has been [illegible] established by a close imitation of its title by a rival publisher is as injurious as its downright adoption, while it is more cowardly and contemptible.

In the English Court of Chancery a bill has been filed by the proprietor of a book called the "Birthday Scripture Text Book" to restrain a firm from publishing a book called the "Children's Birthday Text Book," and after argument the Master of the Rolls granted an injunction restraining the defendants from publishing the "Children's Birthday Text Book" or any other book of the title of which the words "Birthday Text Book" form a portion, or any book so printed, arranged or contrived as by colorable imitation to lead to the belief that such book is the same as that published by the plaintiff under the title of the "Birthday Scripture Text Book," and ordered the defendants to pay the costs of the suit.

BE HAPPY NOW.—How old are you? Twenty five? Thirty? Are you happy to-day? Are you generally happy? If so you have reason to judge that you will be happy by and by. Are you so busy that you have no time to be happy? and are you going to be happy when you are old and you have not so much to do? No, you will not. You now have a specimen of what you will be when you are old. Look in the face of to-day. That is about the average. That will tell you what you are going to be. What you are carrying along with you is what you will have by and by. If you are so conducting yourself that you have peace with God and with your fellow-men and with your faculties, if every day you insist that duty shall make you happy and you take as much time as is needful for the culture of your social faculties, you will not be exhausting life, and it will be continually replenished. But if you are saving everything up till you get to be an old man, habit will stand like a tyrant and say, "You would not enjoy yourself before, and you shall not now." How many men there are who have ground and ground to make money, that they might be happy by and by, but who, when they get to be fifty or sixty years old had used up all the enjoyable nerve that was in them! During their early life they carried toil and economy and frugality to the excess of stinginess, and when the time came that they expected joy, there was no joy for them.—Beecher

THE TERRITORIES

The new flouring mill on the Yakima will begin to grind about the middle of November.

The real estate market at Olympia is weakening. During last week only two transfers of land were filed for record.

Since the completion of the railroad to Hodgdens' the travel between the Columbia river and Puget Sound has more than doubled.

A new Lodge of Masons was instituted at Port Townsend on the 12th inst, under a charter from the Grand Lodge of Washington Territory.

J S Reynolds, who used to run the Idaho Statesman, has engaged in manufacturing barrels in Vallejo, California. We hope he'll do well.

John Dooley lately bought fourteen yoke of work cattle on John Day's river, drove them to the Puget Sound country and sold them at a fair profit.

Beriah Brown's paper is "split" in its support of county candidates for office at the coming election in Washington Territory. It gives parts of each ticket.

One day last week a daughter of P R Hazleton, of Kalama, fell off a swing and broke her leg. At the same place last Friday a frame structure upon which W B Ray was at work fell and Mr R was caught by the falling timbers and had his thigh bone mashed.

The Vancouver correspondent of the Puget Sound Courier says: "Since my last letter we have had one murder, one stabbing case and one county fair. But I am not informed of any birth, death or marriage." How they could have a murder without a death is a little strange.

At the Olympia end of the N P R R track, a town has sprung up called Tuano, consisting of two boarding houses, Ingalls' store, a whisky stand and one barn. The houses are of a temporary character and may be removed from place to place with the movement of the main camp.

The Demo Greeleyites of Walla Walla county have nominated the following ticket: Councilman, Fred Stine; Joint Councilman, O H Montgomery, of Stevens; Representatives, N T Caton, O P Lacy, John Bryant, E Ping; — Bush; — Brown; Sheriff, B W Griffin; Auditor, Sam D Smith.

Hon H G Struve, editor of the Olympia Courier, is temporarily absent from his post attending Court at Vancouver, where he is to defend Wm B Bird, charged with murder committed in Sitka. The trial will take place this week, after which Mr S will hasten back to assist in preparing for the funeral ceremonies of the Democracy on the first Tuesday in November.

The Kalama paper says: "At the instance of Dr Thayer of the N P R R party recently here, Mr D W Trout, foreman of the car shop at Kalama, prepared a small cabinet of all kinds of forest growth pertaining to the Northwest Coast, which he forwarded for the Doctor to headquarters at New York. There were seventeen specimens comprised in the selection, each in the form of an oblong square, 4x6 inches, 1½ inches thick, packed in a box manufactured of Pacific coast maple."

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 22, 1872.

A Very Sad Affair.—On yesterday two brothers named Matthews and a Mr. DeLey were out hunting deer in Brush Prairie, 18 miles back of Vancouver. A pack of hounds which they had, started a cry and in pursuit of game, and William Matthews, one of the brothers, ran toward a certain point which it was supposed the deer would pass when the hounds pursued it. As he came near the spot he espied an object moving through the undergrowth of timber, which he fatally mistook for a deer, and raising his gun to his face, discharged one barrel containing buckshot at the object in sight. But, sad to relate, the moment he had fired a piercing shriek came upon his ear, followed by death groans which he knew came from a human being. Dropping his gun, Matthews ran toward the spot and discovered that he had mortally wounded one of his neighbors named Bell. Bell was passing through the timber with a sack full of something on his shoulder. A shot had struck him in the jugular part of the throat and proved fatal in a few minutes. He never spoke after Mr. Matthews reached him, but expired almost instantly. The other Matthews came at once to Vancouver and reported the matter in substance as we have stated it, and the Coroner of Clarke county started to the scene of the fearful tragedy to hold an inquest. The parties were all respected citizens, as we learn, of the county, and the sad affair has cast a general gloom over the community. Matthews is a married man and has his family residing with him in the neighborhood where the killing occurred. Mr. Bell was a bachelor, living on a claim near by. The general opinion at Vancouver formed on the statement of the brother of the man who made the fearful mistake, was that no criminality attached in the case, but all seemed to regret the want of care which had terminated so sadly fatal.

Adjudged Insane.—A. B. Brothers was arrested several days ago on a charge of larceny, and tried before Judge Denny. He was found guilty and sentenced to the county jail. Since being in jail he has acted strangely at times. A few mornings ago he was observed lying on the floor of his cell partially unconscious. He was raised from his prostrate attitude, when it was discovered that he had attempted to cut his throat with some sharp piece of iron. A gash about two inches long was cut on the left side of his neck, from which the blood was freely flowing. On washing the gore away it was found that the wound was very slight. He was put in the cell but continued to mutter to himself and rave at intervals. Application was made yesterday to the County Judge for his admission to the Insane Asylum, and he was examined before Dr. Watkins. When brought into the presence of the Judge and physician he would only mutter to himself: "God bless you! God bless you!" After many interrogations, it was ascertained that Brothers was born in Ireland; he resided in New York for a number of years; resided in California seven years, and in Oregon about two years. Many years ago he had been struck a heavy blow on the top of his head, since which time he had been subject to periodical fits of insanity. Strong drink had aggravated his mental disorder and rendered him almost a hopeless, confirmed lunatic. He had tried to commit suicide a number of times, and exhibited to the physician an ugly scar made several years ago by a razor, when he attempted to cut his throat, but was prevented. After an examination of the unfortunate fellow's condition, the physician pronounced him a fit subject for the Asylum, and an order authorizing his speedy removal to that institution was made by the Judge.

Mr. Riley's Speech.—Pursuant to announcement, a large number of our citizens assembled at the Court House last evening, to listen to the speech of Mr. George P. Riley, the Fred Douglass of Oregon. The East Portland Band was in attendance and discoursed some lively strains. The meeting was called to order by the President of the evening, Mr. Wm. Brown. Mr. Riley was introduced, and delivered one of the most eloquent, effective and logical speeches which has been made during the Presidential canvass. So far as ability is concerned, the facts warrant the assertion that there are but few better public speakers in the State than Mr. R. He discussed the national issues in a clear and comprehensive manner, showing himself to be no novice in the political history of the country, or the records of the two great party organizations. He paid the highest tribute to the great military services of President Grant, and the results of his wise, careful, economical and judicious administration. He also bestowed the most eloquent eulogy on the statesmanship and many eminent services rendered the country by Henry Wilson. He dealt the weak, vacillating and inconsistent political records of Greeley and Brown some very heavy blows, and handled them without gloves. His remarks were frequently interrupted by loud and enthusiastic applause. By this one speech alone Mr. Riley has rendered the cause of Republicanism signal service.

Heavy Fall.—A drayman and his team met with a heavy fall yesterday afternoon from the old wharf to the rear of the place of business of Messrs. G. L. Hibbard & Co. The man had driven on the upper wharf to load. The wharf, in one place, breaks abruptly away with nothing to prevent a team or footman from stepping off and falling on the lower wharf. As the driver was turning the horse around the animal suddenly began to back towards the "jump-off." He used every effort possible to cause the horse to step forward, but being cramped for room, the dray went off, drawing, as a matter of course, the horse. The man seeing the condition of affairs, let go the reins to save himself. Down went the dray, driver and horse, all in a heap. The distance was about fifteen feet. The lower wharf, as good luck seemed to provide, was covered with chips, old goods boxes and piles of lumber. These obstructions broke the force of the fall, and probably saved the lives of the driver and horse. The dray struck on a pile of lumber with a loud crash. The driver was pitched several yards and alighted on his feet unharmed. Both shoes were torn off the horse's hind feet and his legs scratched and bruised. The dray was not damaged at all. It was a very narrow escape, and it would be almost a miraculous event for a similar fall to result with such slight damages to the driver, horse and dray.

Jury List.—The following is the list of jurors, drawn in the County Clerk's office, to serve at the next term of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county, which will convene on the 11th of November: D. F. Buxton, farmer; P. Selling, merchant; Lewis Love, farmer; J. B. Wyatt, saddler; F. K. Arnold, clerk; Charles P. Bacon, speculator; Caleb Ritchey, lumberman; William McCartney, laborer; Charles Claggett, farmer; S. G. Reed, capitalist; C. C. Hall, Sr.; Thomas Lyons, hotel keeper; Phil. Saunders, speculator; J. Robinson, farmer; J. F. Bybee, farmer; W. C. Harris, carpenter; George L. Story, merchant; Charles Billup, farmer; Leopold Baum, merchant; P. Cason, bricklayer; N. L. Rogers, foundry man; H. DeLin, mechanic; T. D. Jowitt, farmer; Charles E. Calef, druggist; J. H. McMillen, farmer; V. H. DeLashmutt, printer; John Ladd, farmer; George F. Greene, liquor dealer; Robert Wilson, farmer; H. F. Bloch, speculator; Frank Allen, merchant.

Oswego Canal.—As yet no steamer has passed from the Tualatin River to Oswego Lake through the canal which was completed a few weeks since. Owing to the present low stage, the water is only about two feet deep at the most shallow points along the course of the canal. An attempt will not be made to pass through with a steamer until the fall and winter rains swell the body of the river and increase the depth of water so that the transit will be attended with neither danger nor difficulty. The company contemplate, however, the early construction of a wing dam, and thus in a great measure obviate the necessity of a rise of the river. It is thought that a dam at the opening of the canal will cause water enough to be diverted from the river channel to float a steamer through with safety. Nothing but a few small boats and rafts has as yet passed down from the river to the lake.

Thirty Days.—A man named Thomas, who claimed to be a lineal descendant of Joaquin, the notorious bandit, whose name and lawless acts are interwoven with the earlier history of California, was arraigned before Judge Denny yesterday morning on the charge of stealing a coat. The coat was not like that of Joseph—of variegated hues—but only an old one and simply black. To the complaint Thomas pleaded guilty, and the Court having in its eye the crime committed, and not the value of the article purloined, nor the claims of relationship to a noted highwayman, righteously sentenced the defendant to imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days.

Sealed Proposals.—Sealed proposals will be received for the furnishing of an iron fence, suitable to inclose the Court House block, at the office of the County Commissioners, at their next regular session.

Examined for Insanity.—Mrs. Jennie Creamer, arrested Sunday night for drunkenness, was arraigned before Judge Denny yesterday. She entered a plea of not guilty. The evidence, however, did not support her claims of innocence, and she was sentenced to the city jail for a few days. On consultation, it was thought that the woman was insane from the effects of strong drink, as was evinced by her strange behavior and incoherent conversation at times. At the suggestion of the Court, she was taken before Judge Hamilton yesterday afternoon and application made for admittance to the Asylum. The examination by the physician did not support the conclusion of her insanity, and she was remanded to jail to serve out her term of confinement, sober off and regain her mental equilibrium.

First Shipment.—The first shipment of freight via the Oregon Steam Navigation Company and the N. P. R. R. to Steilacoom was made yesterday from this city. The freight was sent to Kalama and from thence forwarded by rail to Hayden's, which is fifteen miles from Olympia. The wagon road for that distance is quite good, considering the character of the country and the season of the year. This shipment is but the harbinger of larger shipments to Olympia and other Sound ports, which our merchants have hitherto been compelled to send by steamer via Victoria. The merchants of Portland should see to it that the Sound merchants are afforded inducements which may open a lively traffic with them this fall and winter.

Portland Bridge.—Official notification has not as yet been received by Mr. Leonard, of the approval of the plans of the Portland Bridge by the Secretary of War, but such information is expected very soon. The Company propose to complete all the preliminary arrangements appertaining to the commencement of the enterprise, so that work can be begun immediately on the receipt of the acceptance of the plans submitted. By a reference to the advertising columns, it will be seen that proposals will be received until the 9th of next month for piles and timber for the bridge.

Fight.—A melee occurred on board the barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg yesterday, between the mate and a common sailor. In an altercation between the two men, the mate seized a hatchet and made at the sailor, who knocked the officer down. He rose Phoenix like from the deck, and again attempted to hew down the assailant, who again quietly "floored" him. Before he rose to his feet the second time, the Captain hearing the fight, rushed in and put an abrupt termination to the difficulty, before it took a more serious turn.

Drunks.—Intemperance is still in the ascendant we are sorry to chronicle. Ten interesting victims of the "flowing cup" were arraigned before Judge Denny yesterday morning. Fines were imposed in each individual's case in proportion to the magnitude of the respective offence. Those who could "ante" were commanded to depart in peace, minus a "piece," while those who had "liquored" and couldn't liquidate were ordered to the city bastile.

Music in the Air.—There was lots of it, and of the best quality, last night, in our city. The East Portland band, as they returned home from the speaking, halted just outside of our office and discoursed one of their most delicious pieces, for which we make our most respectful bow. This band is in thorough drill, and is second to none in the State for furnishing the sweetest, best and most soul stirring music.

Bound Over.—Mr. F. Miller was arrested yesterday, on the complaint of certain parties, charging him with keeping open a public place of amusement on Sunday, and also for retailing liquor on Sunday. The warrant was issued from Justice Ryan's Court. The defendant gave bond for his appearance in the sum of $100 on each charge. The cases will be examined to-day at 1 o'clock P. M.

Election of Officers.—At the annual meeting of the Congregation Beth Israel, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. H. Friendly, President; D. Metzger, Vice President; M. Seller, Treasurer; J. Oppenheimer, Jr., Financial Secretary; Ed. Kahn, Recording Secretary; Jos. Kohn, M. Kosbland, J. Eleischner, Philip Cohen, Trustees; L. Lemline, Collector.

Inspection.—Captain Flanders, Inspector of Hulls, and James Lotan, Inspector of boilers, for the District of Oregon, will pay an official visit to Oregon City in a few days. They will inspect before their return the hulls and boilers of the steamers Dayton and Fannie Patton, in the basin. The boiler and hull of the steamer E. N. Cooke will also be inspected in a few days.

Mill Machinery.—The machinery, engine, etc., of a small saw mill was shipped up the river this morning on the Dalles packet. The machinery was brought down from Lebanon, Linn county, and will be put up on the Touchet, about 70 miles beyond Wallula. The saw mill will be a portable, circular, driven by a fifteen horse power engine.

An "Elephant."—At the raffle given at Canyon Garden, last Sunday, of two bears, a Miss Anna Schwartz was fortunate enough to win one of these handsome (?) pets, she throwing the number 43. Some one who is good at answering conundrums, is requested to tell the public what the young lady is going to do with the "varmint."

Taken Off.—The wheels have been taken off the street cars, which since arrival of the same have been kept on the wharf, and taken to the foundry of Smith Bros. The object is to allow these wheels to be used as patterns. A number will be cast at the foundry and used in connection with cars to be built in the city.

Saw Mill for the Indians.—Gen. R. H. Milroy, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, has just had the machinery for a sawmill manufactured at the Willamette Iron Works at Portland. It has been shipped to Fort Colville, where the General proposes to erect the mill on the reservation and operate it for the Indians.

Washington County Court.—The fall term of the Circuit Court for Washington county, convened at Hillsboro yesterday morning. Judge Upton, District Attorney, Geo. H. Durham, and several attorneys from this city, took the cars yesterday, bound for that point.

To Fort Stevens.—The steamer Dixie Thompson steamed up yesterday morning to Vancouver and carried down to Astoria a company of about 50 soldiers which have been stationed at the garrison. These soldiers have been ordered to report at Fort Stevens.

Came Up.—The ship Siam came up from Astoria in tow of the tug Merrimac yesterday. She is now lying at Flander's wharf, where she will receive a cargo of wheat as soon as a sufficient quantity of the cereal can be obtained.

Finished.—A gentleman just from the scene of operations informs us that the contract of Mr. Paquet, of Oregon City, to construct wing dams at Union Bar, a few miles above the mouth of the Yamhill, has been completed.

Rebuilding.—Workmen are busily engaged in rebuilding a wharf at Springville, and in all probability the warehouses of Mr. Comstock will be constructed and business continued there after the present winter.

New Trial.—The filing of affidavits on the motion for a new trial in the case of the United States vs. Frank Tompkins, et al, will be allowed in the U. S. District Court to day.

Overdue.—The bark Lagurio, bound for this port from Callao, South America, is overdue here. She has been out 115 days. Some apprehensions are felt for her safety.

Ill.—Mr. J. W. Davis, Deputy County Clerk for the last two years, is, we regret to announce, now lying very ill at the American Exchange Hotel.

Circuit Court.—The U. S. Circuit Court convened yesterday. No business was transacted and the Court adjourned until next Monday.

Court.—The Territorial District Court, Judge Green, presiding, convened at Vancouver yesterday morning.

Due.—The steamer California is due at this port from Victoria and Sound ports.

Undeveloped Vigor.
The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and lustreless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpable such palpable evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality; but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system, is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Electricity shower-baths, the flesh brush, sea bathing, etc., may be well enough in their way as auxiliaries, but they do not reach the source of the evil. All physical debility proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, secretive and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case, and also in cases where both causes exist, the Bitters will invariably produce an immediate and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually effect a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkaloids, too often administered as tonics, can be otherwise than deleterious under such circumstances, and to give mercury is positively criminal. The direct effect of the great vegetable specific will be manifested in an improved appetite, a more cheerful frame of mind, a gradual return of strength, an increase of flesh, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution, if inert and feeble, will have been roused and renovated by the subtle elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, FOR MAN AND BEAST.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive Sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Children, Adults, Horses and Domestic Animals, are always liable to accident, and it is safe to say, that no family can pass a single season without some kind of an emollient being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.
Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New York alone are using the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

CAUTION.—The genuine is wrapped in a fine Steel Plate engraving with "G. W. Westbrook, Chemist," and "Trade Mark, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT," engraved across the face of each wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private United States Revenue Stamp, and not a common stamp, as used by druggists.

LETTER FROM VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Oct 19, 1872

To the Editor of The Oregonian

McFADDEN REVIEWED

Pursuant to notice, Hon O B McFadden the Democratic candidate for Congress from this Territory addressed the citizens of this city and county to day on the political issues of the day The hall in which he spoke was well filled, the audience being composed of about an equal number of Democrats and Republicans

The speaker began by relating the history of "the life and public services" of O B McFadden He told how he had won the ermine and held the scales of justice, and concluded by saying that he had several children,—mostly boys and girls—some of whom had married and how some of his kith and kin were buried under the sod of Washington Territory At this last announcement the Democracy cheered lustily, although it did appear to be out of place, but they thought they had to cheer somewhere, and that seemed to be as good a place as any.

He then went on to examine Mr Garfielde's record, and he took occasion to criticise Mr Garfielde's official connection with the charter of the North Pacific Railroad. He first censured Garfielde because he had not caused a proviso to be inserted in that instrument, requiring the road to be built to Portland via Vancouver, and charged by that neglect he had acted with the Railroad Company in building up Kalama at the expense of Vancouver (You will observe that this is his Vancouver speech. He doubtless has another and different speech for Kalama.) He then went on to condemn Garfielde because he had not caused the charter of the Company to be so amended as to require the sale of the land grant to actual settlers only, at the rate of $2 50 per acre, and in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres

Well, Garfielde did oppose that proviso and by so doing rendered the Territory a service. Had that proviso been inserted in the charter, the Company would not have built the road at all, and the lands which will be made accessible by reason of the building of the road, would have remained inaccessible and valueless. Every one knows that the laws which are appropriate to the lands in the States of Indiana and Illinois would not answer here at all. And that eighty acres of land brought near to civilization and markets by railroad, are worth more than any quantity of land remote and inaccessible. Upon this theory the government has acted, and it is this theory carried into effect that has built up the great West.

Mr. McFadden charges that, by reason of the land grant to the Northern Pacific Railroad and the failure to insert the proviso referred to, the yeomanry of Washington Territory are likely to become the serfs of the Railroad Company. This prospect is not very cheering, and yet the Democracy seemed to enjoy it, and cheered lustily. The fact is, the matter of the sale of lands by that Company is, and will be, governed by the law of supply and demand, and McFadden's bugbear will frighten no one. We are curious, however, to know just what manner of a speech he has prepared for the latitude of Kalama, for the one he used here will not do at all.

McFadden next condemned emphatically the appropriation of money for the extension of the public survey, and announced the very strange doctrine, that the interest of the settler would be the best subserved by letting the lands remain unsurveyed, giving as a reason, that so long as the land remains unsurveyed, the odd sections are open to settlement as well as the even; but that as soon as it was surveyed, the odd sections became the property of the Railroad Company, that is within the limits of the withdrawal Now, every one who has carefully read the law knows that after the Company has filed its maps showing the definite line of its route, the odd sections within the limits of the withdrawal belong to the Company, whether it be surveyed or not.

McFadden stated as another reason why the lands need not be surveyed, that as soon as a person settled upon the land he acquired a legal title thereto. It was singular to hear a man, who had just boasted of his fame as a lawyer and jurist, deliver himself of such an absurdity. There are not five men in a hundred, who have lived in the West, who do not know better. McFadden would not dare to make such a statement to a client who should ask and pay for his legal opinion In the first place, a man claiming under the homestead law has no right at all upon unsurveyed land, and those who claim under the pre-emption law can acquire no title until the land upon which he has settled has been surveyed and paid for. If there is one thing more than another that the settler desires, it is that the land upon which he has settled may be surveyed, so that he can acquire a title. The fact is, there is no law upon the statute books, under and pursuant to which, a person can obtain a legal title to unsurveyed lands, and every intelligent settler knows it. If McFadden don't know it, he has not sense enough to serve the people as Delegate If he does know it, then he is dishonest and ought not to be trusted,

The statement that the Indians on the Neah Bay reservation voted at the last election, is simply false. The Indians who voted in this county, had as good a legal right to vote as Judge McFadden, they being not only taxpayers but occupiers of public lands as homestead and pre-emption settlers

The Judge acknowledged at the outset, that he laid no claim to the eloquence of Mr Garfielde, but did lay claim to common sense, experience and sagacity sufficient to represent the Territory in the Halls of Congress His speech itself was evidence enough of the first proposition, but was anything but convincing on the second.

THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT,

Hon. Roger S. Greene presiding, convened to-day at 11 o'clock. The following members of the bar were in attendance S. C Wingard, Prosecuting Attorney, A. G. Cook, District Attorney for the Second Judicial District, W. T., H. G. Struve, J. M Fletcher, Jay D. Potter, J. C. Moreland, Andrew J. Lawrence, Judge Bryan and W. H. Dodge. Deputy U. S. Marshal G. W. Durgin, assisted by the Sheriffs of the several counties composing the District are present to execute the orders of the Court. The docket gives promise of a short session.

came out on Saturday so overflowing with filth that we shall not ask you to soil the pure pages of the OREGONIAN with a notice of it The irresponsibleness of the concern places it beyond the pale of decent men's notice.

CLARKE COUNTY

An Ex Rebel Soldier's Letter.

Hon. Joseph G. Baum, who was Lieutenant-Colonel of the Eighth Louisiana Volunteers, and has been long a prominent Democratic politician in the Cresent City, says in a private letter to a relative in California "The Fourth District re-echoes to the name of Grant, and why? Because he is a friend of the South. We remember him as a the magnanimous soldier who in victory forbid pomp who ordered that our soldiers should not be humiliated, shared with them his rations, ordered 'that they should retain their side arms which they had so dearly won, that they should take with them their horses that they might till their harvest ' These things are not to be forgotten by the Confederate soldiers Untold numbers who wore the 'gray' and were so lately enfranchised through his magnanimity, will not forget it at the ballot box The Democratic party in placing Horace Greeley, the arch enemy of the South, as its standard bearer has committed political suicide Grant will poll a large share of the Ex Confederate soldier's votes The Democratic leaders in selling our party will fail in selling our votes souls and sacred honors I therefore answer you that I am for Grant with my vote voice and influence, believing as I do that I am right, and in so doing am a true friend to my native State and land Shall vote for the man who cries for peace, and who, in the discharge of his duty, demands that 'peace shall prevail on every inch of American soil ' Louisiana is sure for Grant

Gold in New York to-day 114

Portland Legal Tender rates 87c buying 88c selling

Average California Wheat in Liverpool to-day, 13s 6d Club Wheat, 14s

Our local Money market to day seems but little improved, and also work [illegible] anticipated There are those who feel some insecurity in the condition financially of the country and prudent dealers are chary in transactions now who a few months ago launched upon the sea of trade with full [illegible] and buoyant hopes Just what the result will be it is difficult to tell, but that a confinement of trade to its legitimate channels under present circumstances is highly necessary, all will admit The causes assigned for the condition of things are almost as varied as the opinions of men on any other subject

The New York Mercantile Journal has a scathing article on the question of Finances from which we copy the following extract

The exceedingly disgraceful condition of the Money market which we have been compelled to report for several weeks past still continues The officers of all the city banks (and especially those that are working under the National Bank Act) have been much concerned as to the immediate future and some of them have withdrawn all discount accommodations from their customers except when compelled to renew maturing paper These banks remind us of a class of horses deemed of no value because they are sure to baulk when their services are most needed According to our mind, a horse that travels rapidly over good roads with a light load but always refuses to do anything when the load increases to be heavy and the road rough is not only worthless but a nuisance The banks which are always unable to make loans when most needed must also be declared a nuisance as they only lead their customers into financial difficulties, and then baulk throwing the affairs of their deluded customers into a muddle

It is an admitted fact that for almost every class of manufactures it is a positive necessity that the motive power by which the machinery is driven be so adjusted as to give a steady motion This applies to the fanning mill of the farmer as well as to the machinery of the cotton manufacturer Too much speed is detrimental; too slow a motion fails to accomplish the work Hence, every steam engine to be of practical utility, must have a "governor" attached to it. With the physical system also, moderation is a positive necessity, as either too much or too little food works harm It will not answer as we all know, to starve one week and gorge the next, with the view of making an average Average works well in some matters, but it will not do either in eating, drinking, sleeping, motion of machinery used for manufacturing purposes, or for a currency with which to keep the commerce of a nation in a healthy condition The supply should always be equal to the needs of the hour, but neither excessive nor insufficient, at any time

If the gentlemen whom we honor with seats in Congress, would give proper attention to the subject, it would be utterly impossible for them not to discover that it is their duty to guard against these extremes in monetary affairs In no way could they so effectually do this as to direct the Secretary of the Treasury to issue National Paper Money, making it a full legal tender and adjusting the volume and 'fixing the value of the same,' by a perpetual offer to exchange such Money (in sums of one thousand dollars) for Government bonds, payable on demand, bearing a fixed rate of interest.

The Money market of San Francisco is spoken of as follows, in an exchange, under date of the 10th instant "The Money market continues under the pressure of a terrible scarcity of Coin, and the rates of interest are quite arbitrary with lenders—2½@5 ₩ ct on the rates outside the banks " How this state of affairs in a community where no statute exists on the subject of interest is reconcilable with the position that the existence of such a law in Oregon is the cause of the same ' terrible scarcity " here is a question for our contemporaries who advocate the repeal of the usury law to answer If money in California is hard to obtain at from 2½ to 5 ₩ ct, where are the large sums that were ready to flow into Oregon upon the repeal of the usury law? We trust the day has not yet come, and that it will never come when such ruinous rates will prevail in our State, for though a tightness in the Money market to such an extent as now now exists is much to be deplored; yet no political economist will deny the probable disastrous consequences to commerce liable to follow greatly prevailing exorbitant rates of interest The financial history of the country presents a long list of commercial disasters which are traceable to just that source The accumulation of a vast pile of mortgages upon the property of the country to insure the payment of sums of money borrowed at high rates of interest is not a desirable condition of affairs, even though it bring about what, to a casual observer, may look like a buoyant and prosperous trade Such buoyancy and prosperity is not healthy, but only inflations which cannot last, but sooner or later end in depressive consequences and even bankruptcy

The question of Freights still continues to agitate the public mind, and much anxiety is yet felt as to the probability of securing the requisite amount of transportation to move our surplus Grain crop, even before the beginning of the next harvest But still there seems at present to be a prospect that the high rates for charters which now rule will have the tendency to draw toward the coast an unusually large number of sailing craft, and Oregon need have no fears, were it not that the enormous quantity of Grain in California must first be moved, before the attention of ship-owners can be generally drawn hither The list of vessels on the way to San Francisco on the 15th inst. numbered 177, a considerable increase over the number a few weeks ago. There are 45 en route from domestic Atlantic ports, 41 from Great Britain, 6 from Germany, 10 from France, 20 from China and Japan, 22 from Australia and 30 from South America and the islands of the Pacific

The agents at San Francisco of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company deny that $9 ₩ ton is an exorbitant rate for carrying Flour to Hongkong, and instance the rates from New York to Liverpool, which is 8s 9d ₩ bbl, or over $9 ₩ ton, and the distance less than one-half that traversed by their steamers They say that $9 scarcely covers the cost of transportation and that whenever Flour has been carried at $6, it was taken for ballast, when very little freight was offering

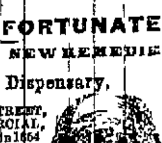
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.
